

Recommendations for writing

- relate your own results to established science
- limit the scope of your work
- thorough literature review
- don't underestimate the impact of your conclusions and discussion
- explain terminology, avoid "big words"
- critical assessment is important (limitations, wrong turns, ...)